

For a while, the trend for tobacco use among adolescents was headed in the wrong direction. Approximately 25% of high school students and 8% of middle school students reported the use of tobacco products. Recent data indicated that the trend may be slowing, but the use of the e-cigs and other vapor mechanisms is on the rise. It is important for parents to council their kids that the alternative products to cigarettes is not better, and perhaps worse.